THE COOPER ELECTION LAW.

One of the best things done by the legislature of Wisconsin thus far is the passage of the bill introduced by Senator Cooper, of Racine, to prevent espionage at public elections, to secure more fully the independence of voters, and to enforce the secrecy of the ballot. Practically, it is the Australian system, with the Massachusetts form of ticket.

The act provides that it shall not apply to elections for town and village officers where there is no provision for the registration of votes.

Section 2 provides that all ballots cast in elections for public officers within this state after the 1st day of October 1889, and all ballots in municipal elections in cities having a population of less than 50,000, shall be printed at public expense as hereinafter provided.

Section 3 provides that any convention or primary meeting, as hereinafter defined, held for the purpose of making nominations to public office, may nominate candidates for public office to be filled by election within the state. Individual voters, to the number and in the manner herinafter specified, may also nominate candidates for public office.

Section 5 contains the following: The certificate of nomination shall be in writing, and, besides containing the names of candidates, shall specify as to each (1) the office for which he is nominated; (2) his business and business address; (3) his place of residence, with street and number, if any; (4) the party or principle which he represents, expressed in not more than five words. Such certificate shall be signed by the presiding officer and secretary of such convention or primary meeting, who shall add to their signatures their respective places of residence, with street and number, if any, and their respective businesses; and they shall make oath, before an officer qualified to administer the same, that the affiants were such officers of such convention or primary meeting, and that said certificate and the statements therein contained are true to the best of their knowledge and belief.

Section 6 provides as follows: "Candidates for public office may also be nominated in the manner following: A nomination paper containing (1) the name of the candidate; (2) the office for which he is nominated; (3) his business; (4) his residence, with street and number, if any; (5) the party or principle which he represents, expressed in not more then five words, shall be signed by voters residing within the political division in and for which the officer or officers are to be elected. When the nomination is for an office to be filled by the voters of the entire state nomination papers shall be signed in the aggregate for each candidate by not less than 1,000 voters of the state. Nominations of candidates for offices to be filled by the voters of a county, or other district or division less than the state, may be made by nomination papers signed in the aggregate for each candidate by voters residing in such county, district or other division, not less in number than one for every 100 persons who voted at the next preceding election in the county, district or other division, but in no case less than fifty. Such signatures need not all be appended to one paper.

Section 13 provides: "At least seven days before an election to fill any public office the county clerk of each county shall cause to be published in at least two newspapers, if there be so many, and in not more than four, published within the county, the nominations to office certified to him under the provisions of this act. One such publication shall be made in a newspaper which advocates the principles of the political party that at the last preceeding election cast the largest number of votes; and another of such publications shall be made in a newspaper which advocates the principles of the political party that at the last preceeding election cast the next largest number of votes.

Section 17 makes provision for the official ballot, in the following manner: "The names of all candidates nominated by each party shall be grouped together upon the proper ballot and the names of candidates for the offices of electors of president and vice president shall be arranged in groups as presented in the several certificates of nomination or nomination papers. There shall be a margin on the right side at least one inch wide and a reasonable space between the names printed thereon, so that the voter may clearly indicate, in the way hereinafter provided, the candidate or candidates for whom he wishes to vote. The ballots shall be so printed as to give to each voter a clear opportunity to designate by a cross marked (X) on the margin at the right of the name of each candidate, as illustrated in the form given below, his choice of candidates and his answer to any question submitted, and on the ballot may be printed such words as will aid the voter to do this, as 'vote for one,' 'vote for three,' 'yes,' 'no,' and the like. On the back and outside of every ballot shall be printed 'official ballot,' followed by the designation of the polling place for which the ballot is prepared and the date of the election."

For the better information of the readers of the Gazette, the following form will clearly illustrate the ballot to be used:

Voting shelves and booths shall be furnished, one for every 50 electors, and the purposes of the shelves, booths or compartments, are interestingly described in section 23 of the act: On receipt of his ballots the elector shall forthwith, and without leaving the polling place, retire alone to one of the places, booths or compartment provided to prepare his ballot. He shall prepare his ballot by marking a cross before or after the name of the person or persons for whom he intends to vote, for example, x; or in case of a ballot containing a constitutional amendment or a question to be submitted to the vote of the people, by crossing out therefrom parts of the ballot in such manner that the remaining part shall express his vote upon the question submitted. In making such a ballot any elector shall be at liberty to use or copy any unofficial sample ballot which he may choose to mark or to have marked the official ballot, but no elector shall be at liberty to use or bring into the polling place any unofficial sample ballot printed upon paper of the color and quality now required to be used for the printing of ballots under the general election laws of this state. After preparing his ballots, the elector shall fold each of them so that the face of the ballot shall be concealed, and so that the printed endorsement and the signiture or initial of the ballot clerks thereon may be seen. He shall then vote forthwith and before leaving the polling place.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Union, advises the democrats of Wisconsin "to instruct their delegates to the next national convention modestly to take back seats and not again to put a cur prominently forward to bark insult at the representatives from the great and all-important democratic state of New York." The question now is, who does the New York democratic paper mean by the "cur"—Mr. Vilas or General Bragg? Will some democratic paper explain?

The legislature is making such slow progress that it cannot adjourn on the 12th instant as provided by the joint resolution. The time will likely be extended one week.

A Great Surprise.

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on it merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acuate or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

To the Public.

A WHIRLWIND OF FLAME.

TERRIBLE TALES OF THE LOSSES IN DAKOTA.

The Burning of Mount Vernon and Leola —Hundreds of Farmers Without Homes, Stock or Seed.

MITCHELL, Dak., April 5.—The fires which have brought so much loss and suffering to southeastern Dakota in the last few days were practically irresistible. Flames in some instances leaped 100 feet of plowed ground and rushed away again on their career of destruction. All ordinary precautions were vain. The spring has been very dry and the top of the ground has been dusty or baked. The wind from the northeast blew between forty and fifty miles an hour, fanning the flames into fury. Under these conditions whenever fire touched the grass it burst out with a flash almost like powder and shot away across the prairie like an arrow, its course ever widening. To extinguish it by water, of course, was out of the question. Plowing fire-breaks was slow work and the high winds often drove the flames across them.

It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the people of Mount Vernon saw the wide-spreading hurricane northwest of them break out into a blaze. The smoke was dashed into and through the town on the wings of the wind. The flames rushed after with savage fury. Mitchell was telegraphed to for help, and 100 firemen with a hook and ladder truck were sent at once. The entire population of Mount Vernon and the men from Mitchell met the furious flames on the outskirts of the town and fought with desperation, but in vain. No lives were lost, but forty-five buildings were burned and 100 families left homeless. The loss is put at $30,000.

Outside of the town it is impossible yet to say what the loss is. Lonely little farm houses scattered over the prairie are wiped out by dozens. Stories of losses of life may come in later. As near as can can be estimated this morning the losses in South Dakota will reach $2,000,000.

Destruction in Yankton County.

YANKTON, Dak., April 5.—The stories of the terrible losses by the hurricane of fire that swept over the country north of here continue to come in. Columns might be written of the horrors of the last few days and the heroic efforts put forth to save home and property that the farmers have worked so hard to secure. Volin village has only three buildings standing; Olivet, Hutchinson county, was burned; Pukwanne was wiped out. The losers in Yankton county are: M. M. Joanson, R. Anderson, F. Ott, Mrs. Stockwall, R. Fringle, J. F. Olsen, David Perley, James Hoxing, John Hundershot, Leroy Jencks, M. Holbrook, E. S. Volin, A. H. Volin, Joseph Beckmeir, Henry Rake, Charles Stencil, William Randall, S. M. Rowe.

In the vicinity of Jamesville, twelve miles north of Yankton, eight farmers sustained losses ranging from $1,000 to $3,000 each. Among these were N. Johnson, Charles Houk, Wallace Brothers, and E. C. Cook. Around Jamesville the loss will foot up $10,000. One man lost $1,000 in money, which he had in his coat on a piece of plowed ground 300 feet from the grass. Two new wagons were burned 100 feet from the fire. Sixty miles of Western Union wires were blown down between Centerville and Huron.

Two Victims of the Flames.

HIGHMORE, Dak., April 5.—A destructive and calamitous prairie fire started on the evening of the 1st five miles from Highmore on the farm of James Ingram. While he was smoking his pipe his barn took fire and was destroyed. A fierce wind carried the fire to the prairie and the work of destruction began. Houses, barns, and some stock were burned. Tuesday morning the wind reached a terrific gale. No ordinary fire-break made any resistance to the sweeping flame. At 3 p. m. the fire reached Rae Heights, fifteen miles east of Highmore, where thirteen residences in the town were destroyed. The losses estimated in Hyde county are $3,000. At sundown Tuesday another fire started in the northern part of this county, sweeping away six homes, burning to death Miss Annie Sweeney and a 5-year-old baby. Eugene Tibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Tibbs, and Mr. and Mrs. Ruby are dangerously burned, the two former fatally. Returns of losses are not in, but will reach many thousand dollars.

The Burning of Leola.

ABERDEEN, D. T., April 5.—The terrible story of the complete destruction of Leola, the county seat of McPherson county, has been brought in by couriers. Leola was a fine little town of 300 inhabitants, and the country for miles around was well settled with an industrious and thrifty people. Out of thirty places of business, including two banks, two newspapers, two churches, three or four hotels, and all lines of business, but four are left standing, and out of from thirty to forty residences less than a dozen remain. The loss is practically complete, and will reach $150,000. The insurance was very light. C. W. Old and Thomas Wardell were terrible burned, and the couriers say they cannot live. Nothing definite is known about rebuilding. Citizens here will hold a meeting this afternoon to take measures for relief. Scores of farmers are without seed wheat, stock, buildings, or implements to commence spring work.

Losses Around Scotland.

SCOTLAND, D. T., April 5.—It would take $200,000 to cover the loss in this county. The Hutchinson Herald office was burned. The losses amount to $35,000, with less than $6,000 insurance. David Ischettar and Howard White, farmers near Olivet, were completely burned out. Another fire east of Scotland destroyed everything on the farms of A. O. Fansky, Gus Evenson, and M. Shook. On the stock farm of E. S. Sweat three barns were burned, loss $3,000. Twelve miles west of Scotland a prairie fire raged. Twenty-five farmers are known to have lost everything.

COLLISION IN TENNESSEE.

Three Men Reported Killed and Seven Injured.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 5.—A collision of two freight trains occurred at 10 o'clock this morning on the Decatur division of the Louisville & Nashville road, in which three men were killed instantly and seven wounded.

A Big Blaze at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 5.—A big fire broke out here at midnight in the brass casting factory of J. B. Sheriff & Son, which was completely gutted. The flames spread rapidly and destroyed two other buildings. A 1 o'clock the fire was still burning, but under control. The buildings and stocks were valued at $60,000; partly insured.

A Big Fire in Lancaster, Pa.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 5.—Fire broke out just before midnight in the extensive planing mill of John A. Burger, Jr., and burned until this morning. The mill and contents were totally destroyed and the falling walls crushed two brick houses belonging to Mrs. John Hage. Two frame dwellings adjacent were also partially destroyed. Loss $32,000, partially insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fatally Burned by Natural Gas.

PALESTINE, Ohio, April 5.—A natural gas well of terrific volume and pressure was struck near this place to-day at a depth of 700 feet. The drillers were not expecting the strike and were entirely unprepared. The gas blew the drilling tools high into the air and ignited from the fire under the boiler. The derrick and several small buildings near by were totally consumed. D. B. Taylor, Simeon Early, Simeon Early, Robert Tommins, Jr., and another man whose name is unknown were seriously and perhaps fatally burned. The flame of the burning gas is over fifty feet high.

Fire at the Chicago Stock Yards.

CHICAGO, April 5.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire broke out in Swift & Co.'s lard refinery and butterine factory in the stock yards. The structure is an irregularly built frame, varying in different parts from two to five stories, and was filled with lard and butterine. The fire was confined to the interior and at no time extended to the roof or sides of the building. Considerable damage was done to the stock and the loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000.

Torn to Pieces in a Mine Explosion.

EL PASO, Texas, April 5.—A terrific explosion occurred to-day in the Log Cabin mine in the bromide mining district in New Mexico. Two miners, Del White and M. G. Johnson, were down the shaft drilling and loading for a blast with giant powder cartridges. White tapped the cap of one of the charges after it was in position with a spoon, causing the explosion. White was blown to pieces, but Johnson was not hurt.

Crushed to Death in a Mill.

THREE RIVERS, Mich., April 4.—Frank Merkle, a young married man, was killed at the paper mill in this city this morning. He had been whitewashing about the building, and while at work his clothing caught on a shaft. His body was feartully crushed. He had lately come over to this country from Germany.

Doubly Fatal Collision.

RENO, Nev. April 5.—Two freight trains collided at Lawton's Springs to-day. Harry Wilson of Reno, and J. H. Mysgader, the fireman, were killed. The trains met on a sharp curve. The two engines and fourteen cars are badly wrecked.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

The Senate Refuses to Abolish the Office of State Treasury Agent.

Other Important Measures Considered in the Senate and Assembly.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, April 5.—The assembly bills passed:

A long debate was held over the Osborne bill to tax peddlers and hawkers, and to put the matter in the hands of towns and cities and incidental to abolish the office of the state treasury agent. A strong feeling against the state treasury agent was developed during the discussion, but the bill was finally voted down by 45 to 39.

The following senate bills passed:

Amending registration laws in reference to births, etc.

Extending laws to protect brook trout.

Making deer law applicable all over the state.

Making it unlawful to sell pike or bass under one pound in weight.

BOULANGER IS WATCHED.

FRENCH DETECTIVES DOG HIS FOOTSTEPS.

The Wrecked Nipsic Has Been Raised—Sir Charles Russell Continues His Speech—Foreign Affairs.

BRUSSELS, April 5.—Gen. Boulanger remains quietly at a hotel here, receiving a few visitors, but is in constant communication with his friends in Paris. He has placed himself in the hands of the general committee of the national party and acts wholly on their advice. The General intends to visit London and will arrive there early next week. By going to England he prevents the complications likely to be caused by his presence in Belgium. He is constantly watched by French detectives, who follow his every footstep. The French government is doing its utmost to procure his expulsion from Belgium.

PARIS, April 5.—The object of Gen. Boulanger's friends in urging him to leave France, it is alleged, is to prevent the Government from precipitating the conflict it seeks for the purpose of putting the General in the wrong and effecting his destruction. They are content to await the decision of the general elections.

Want to Prosecute Boulanger.

PARIS, April 5.—The Ministry have asked the Chamber of Deputies to sanction the prosecution of Gen. Boulanger.

THE NIPSIC AFLOAT.

The Stranded Man-of-War May Yet be Saved.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 4.—The British man-of-war Calliope, which escaped possible destruction in Apia bay during the cyclone there on March 15 and 16 by being able to put to sea, has arrived here. She reports that she left Samoa on the 21st of March, and that the United States man-of-war Nipsic had been floated off of the beach, the natives lending material assistance.

Before the hurricane burst every precaution had been taken by the commander of the Calliope to render the vessel secure. Five anchors had been dropped, but when the storm was at its height four of the anchor chains snapped and the vessel began to drift. The captain then determined to leave the reefs and, if possible, reach the open sea. This he eventually succeeded in doing, working his way out at the rate of half a knot an hour. Tremendous seas broke over the vessel, inflicting much damage, but fortunately not a life was lost.

Thousands of people flocked to the waterside to see the Calliope, and all united in praising the pluck of her captain.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—No news had been received by officers of the navy department up to 7:30 o'clock last evening in regard to the floating of the Nipsic at Samoa. The announcement that the vessel had been floated was received with a great deal of satisfaction by Secretary Tracy and the bureau officers of the navy department. "That's good news; that's good. I am glad to hear it," said the Secretary.

Commodore Walker, chief of the bureau of navigation, was also highly gratified at the intelligence. "That's a gain of one," said he. "If we can get her afloat and sent to Auckland and repair it will be doing very well. I am glad to hear that she has been floated. The Nipsic is a good boat, a very good one of her kind." He did not think it likely that the Trenton or Vandalia could be saved, as the dispetches indicated they were too badly damaged.

AN IMPERIAL ORDER.

The German Emperor Laments the Disaster at Samoa.

BERLIN, April 5.—An imperial order in relation to the loss of officers and men belonging to the German navy by the recent hurricane at Apia has been issued. The Emperor says he laments that by God's will officers and men of the navy, stationed at Samoa, who in December staked their lives for the Emperor and the Empire, have lost their lives while in the faithful performance of their duty. The Emperor expects that the confidence in the navy which has been so successfully developed will remain unshaken, and that the devotion to duty displayed by those who perished will serve as a bright example to the whole navy, which in the future, as in the past, will work for the welfare and glory of the fatherland.

An American Clergyman Kills Himself.

LONDON, April 5.—Rev. Charles Sidney Hurd, lately of Palmerston Unitarian Chapel, Boston, committed suicide by taking opium in the Euston Hotel, London, on Sunday last. Last week Mr. Hurd wrote to Rev. Stopford Brooks asking for pecuniary assistance. Mr. Brooks made inquiries and promised to pay Mr. Hurd's passage to Boston on Monday, although Mr. Hurd was a stranger to him.

More News of Stanley.

LONDON, April 5.—According to advices just received from the authorities of the Congo Free State Arabs have arrived at Stanley Falls who assert that they saw Stanley and Emin Pasha with thousands of men and women and immense quantities of baggage and supplies at the end of February, marching toward Zanzibar.

King John's Death Not Confirmed.

LONDON, April 5.—No definite confirmation has been received of the reported death of King John of Abyssinia, but it is generally believed, as it is known the King was seriously wounded in a recent battle. If the rumor is true internal troubles will arcis in Abyssinia, as the King leaves no heir.

Gladstone's Son Is Worse.

LONDON, April 5.—Mr. W. H. Gladstone, the eldest son of Mr. Gladstone, who was convalescing from his recent illness, has suffered a relapse.

Sir Charles Russell's Speech.

LONDON, April 5.—Sir Charles Russell continued his speech in behalf of the Parnellites before the Parnell commision today.

He explained the constitution and objects of the league formed by Mr. Davitt, of which Mr. Parnell was president, and said that of the persons constituting the executive of the league only five were connected with secret organizations. The league's appeals, he declared, were based upon the necessities of farmers, and were entirely constitutional. They were intended to guide the farmers in their distress. He pointed out that Mr. Parnell and his followers had been villified and misrepresented like Messrs. Bright and Cobden were in the early days of their reform movement.

HUNTING CLAYTON'S SLAYER.

C. R. Breckinridge Furnishing Money to Follow Important Clues.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 5.—C. R. Breckinridge came up from his home at Pine Bluff and had an interview with Gov. Eagle about the efforts being made to catch the assassin of J. M. Clayton. When Mr. Breckinridge was here some days ago he conferred with the Governor on this subject and found him in possession of information that needed to be followed up, but was without funds for that use. He at once supplied funds and promised to secure more. Yesterday he turned in more money and told the Governor to let him know when he needed more, and to speak as often as he required money. He said he would undertake to go over the Second district and raise as many thousand dollars as were needed to exhaust all efforts to bring the guilty ones to justice. Gov. Eagle said to-day that he was in possession of some important information, and that he believed the murderer would be taken in a short time. Dan Richmond, who shot the negro Smith, at Plummerville, is only a boy of 17 years, and the affair has no connection with the Clayton case, as Richmond never voted or affiliated with any party.

BIG CASE OF SMUGGLING.

Allard & Sons Said to Be Connected with Frauds Involving $50,000.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Allard & Sons of Paris and New York, are accused of carrying on smuggling operations on a tremendous scale, and quantities of goods have been seized at their warerooms on Fifth avenue. Their method, it is charged, was to substitute rich silks and tapestries for the hair in stuffing the upholstered parts of antique furniture, and so escape paying duty. A portrait of one of the Vanderbilts was brought in back of an antique mirror, it is charged, and a Rembrandt between the panels in a carved door. In each case the customers were charged for the duty, which, it is alleged, had not been paid. Thus far the loss to the government, it is estimated, amounts to about $50,000, and it is expected that before the end is reached the total will foot up fully $520,000. Allard & Sons are well known in the fashionable world, the main house being in Paris.

PROGRESS OF THE "Q." TRIAL.

Strong Evidence Being Brought Out Against the Defendants.

GENEVA, Ill., April 5.—In the "Q." conspiracy case to-day Prof. Haines of Chicago testified that the stuff produced in court was dynamite.

Detective Ray of Chicago then gave an account of his shadowing Broderick. He corroborated Detective Mulligan's evidence given Wednesday. A deputy United States marshal corroborated the testimony given by Bowles, McGinn and others regarding the arrests. H. B. Stone of the "Q" corroborated Schevelin's testimony, given yesterday, also saying that neither threats nor promises had been used to obtain the statement which Godding made. Bauereisen's handwriting was identified by several experts from Chicago.

Edwin Booth Better.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 5.—Edwin Booth's condition was so far improved this morning that he left for New York accompanied by his valet.

A physician who visited him this morning reports that Mr. Booth had recovered his voice to a great extent and was able to speak quite plainly, and that with a rest of two weeks he will probably be able to resume his profession. The paralysis affected his entire left side, but passed away in a few minutes. The attack is regarded as premonitory, and Mr. Booth is likely, eventually, to suffer another, which will prove fatal.

Unpaid Workmen Threaten Violence.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., April 5.—Marks, Doble & Co. of Thessalon, Ont., a small town on the St. Mary's river, are in financial trouble. Acting as disbursing agents for big timber contractors they have failed to pay the men in the woods for their winter's work. The lumbermen, to the number of 200, have come in from the camps and threaten violence. The general supply store of Marks, Doble & Co. is closed and the senior member of the firm has locked himself in.

The horses were located at Steele Bros.' corral, where they were being cared for and held for a freight bill of $125. The horses are valued at $20,000.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at F. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

We have sold Ely's Cream Balm about three years, and have recommended it use in more than a hundred special cases of catarrh. The unanimous answer to our inquiries is, "It's the best remedy that I have ever used." Our experience is, that where parties continued its use, it never fails to cure.—J. H. Montgomery & Co., druggists, Decorah, Iowa.

I have used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh (to which Eastern persons are subject who come to live here.) It has proved a cure. B. F. M. Weeks, Denver, Col.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for several years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz," Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. —Get a trial bottle free at F. Sherer & Co's drugstore.

LEGISLATORS IN SESSION.

THE CHICAGO DRAINAGE BILL AGAIN LAID OVER.

Wisconsin Kills the Dressed Beef Bill and Taylor's Railroad Measure—Proceedings at Lansing.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 5.—A conference of the friends of the Chicago drainage bill was held Thursday morning, and it seemed to be the opinion that if action were delayed for such time as to enable Mayor-elect Cregier to make known his views upon the bill, it would have the effect of securing additional support from the Democratic side, and greatly enhance the probability of passage. Mr. Meyer took charge of the measure when the House met and moved to indefinitely postpone the motion for reconsideration. The motion prevailed by a unanimous vote, and the bill now retains its former status. It is a special order for April 11.

The House and Senate general appropriation bills were made a special order for Tuesday next.

The Game bill came up on second reading and provoked long discussion. The friends of Sunday shooting finally gained their point by the adoption of an amendment striking from the bill the words Sunday, Monday and Tuesday wherever spring shooting was prohibited on these days. The bill was ordered to third reading.

Mr. McElligott moved to suspend the rules in order to read the Senate Eckhardt-Baker telephone bill a first time. Defeated, 84 to 44, not the necessary two-thirds.

In the Senate the bill appropriating $500 for an oil painting of ex-Gov. Oglesby, to be hung in the executive mansion, was passed.

The following bills were introduced: By Mr. Monaghan, for the protection of discharged employes, and to prevent blacklisting [This is the bill introduced in the House some time ago]; by Mr. Burke, to establish a test for illuminating oils, also a bill to establish boards of police and fire commissioners; by Mr. Eckhart, providing that telephone companies refusing to operate at the rates fixed by the laws of this State shall forfeit their franchise, also a bill revising the military code; by Mr. Berry, appropriating $10,000 for the purchase of the library and collection of fossil specimens belonging to the estate of the late Prof. A. H. Worthen.

LAWS FOR WISCONSIN.

A Day's Proceedings of the Solons at Madison.

MADISON, Wis., April 5.—In the Assembly Milwaukee lost the $100,000 Ssate fair appropriation bill. In the Senate the Mills bill, a pet of the session two years ago, was defeated. This bill provided for a division of Ashland county and for the creation of the county of Mills. Another trouble in the Assembly was caused by an announcement that the State printer had made a blunder in printing the proceedings. It was soon discovered, however, that one of the clerks of the House made the mistake and the State printer called upon the speaker to make such an announcement.

The Senate passed the bill authorizing the Secretary of State to audit the claim of Bently & Nolan, amounting to $26,000, for rebuilding the south wing of the capitol. The following bills were concurred in: Authorizing the Methodist denomination to form corporations for the insurance of church property; authorizing guardians to convey real estate of wards in certain cases. In the Assembly a bill was passed permitting St. Joseph's Benevolent society of Minneapolis to transact an insurance business in Wisconsin on the same conditions as other benevolent insurance organizations. Senate bills were concurred in to prevent the abduction of women; for more adequate punishment for keepers of houses of ill fame; reducing the price of State lands. The dressed beef bill was killed in the Assembly by a vote of 47 to 31.

In the evening "Hod" Taylor's railroad bill was killed by indefinite postponement.

BOULEVARDS FOR DETROIT.

The Michigan Legislature Authorizes the City to Issue $500,000 of Bonds.

LANSING, Mich., April 5.—The bill increasing the Governor's salary from $1,000 to $4,000 was adopted, and the House by a vote of 75 to 8 passed a bill authorizing Detroit to issue bonds for $500,000 to be expended in boulevard improvements; also another bill placing all Detroit parks and boulevards under one general board of control. A bill incorporating Ironwood, which has been bitterly contested on account of a large amount of territory being added to include the Iron King and Pabst mining properties for purposes of taxation, passed both Houses. The House also passed a bill amending the law by which upper peninsula railroads charge 5 cents a mile for passenger traffic so as to allow the roads to charge but 3 cents hereafter. The Senate in committee of the whole killed the House bill permitting local boards of health to draw on the county treasuries to prevent the spread of smallpox and other contagious diseases.

HONORS TO E. P. ALLIS.

His Funeral Services Attended by Many Friends.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—The funeral of E. B. Allis took place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence on Martin street.

The service was marked with extreme simplicity. It was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Forbush of the First Unitarian church, of which Mr. Allis was a member. The pall-bearers were the six sons. During the morning the body, in a plain black casket, lay in state in the library of the residence.

At 11 o'clock the shop employes came in a body to take a last look at their employer. The line was headed by eleven employes of the office, after whom followed a long column of shopmen extending for three quarters of a mile. The men marched in double file through the library, passing on either side of the casket. Besides the shopmen many old friends called to view the well-known features for the last time. The remains were interred at Forest Home.

As the funeral procession passed the Reliance works the workmen formed a line on either side of the street and stood with uncovered heads while it passed through. They then disbanded and many accompanied the remains to the grave.

In Town and Hamlet.

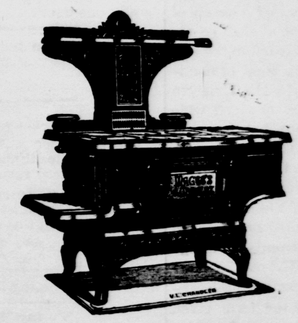

The seeds of intermittent and bilious remitent fever germinate and bear evil fruit. No community has altogether escaped it. In populous wards of large cities bad sewage causes it, and in their suburbs stagnant pools in sunken lots breed it. There is at once a remedy and a means of prevention. Its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is, without peradventure, the most potent antidote in existence to the malarial virus. Fortified with this incomparable, saving specific, miasmatic influences may be encountered with absolute impunity. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, begotten by miasma-tainted water, or any other cause, succumb to the beneficent corrective named, and rheumatic, kidney and bladder troubles are surely removable by its use when it is given a persistent trial.

TO MONTANA, OREGON AND WASHINGTON.

If you are going west bear in mind the following facts: The Northern Pacific Railroad owns and operates 987 miles, or 57 per cent. of the entire railroad mileage of Montana; spans the territory with its main lines from east to west; is the short line to Helena; the only Pullman and dining car line to Butte, and is the only line that reaches Miles City, Billings, Bozeman, Missoula, the Yellowstone National Park and, in fact, nine tenths of the cities and points of interest in the territory.

The Northern Pacific owns and operates 621 miles or 56 per cent of the railroad mileage of Washington, its main line extending from the Idaho line via Spokane Falls, Cheney, Sprague Yakima and Ellensburg, through the center of the territory to Tacoma and Seattle and from Tacoma to Portland. No other transcontinental through rail line reaches any portion of Washington Territory. Ten days stop over privileges are given on Northern Pacific second class tickets at Spokane Falls and all points west, thus affording intending settlers an excellent opportunity to see the entire territory without incurring the expense of paying local fares from point to point.

The Northern Pacific is the shortest route from St. Paul to Tacoma by 207 miles; to Seattle by 177 miles, and to Portland by 324 miles—time correspondingly shorter, varying from one to two days, according to destination. No other line from St. Paul or Minneapolis runs through passenger cars of any kind into Idaho, Oregon or Washington.

In addition to being the only rail line to Spokane Falls, Tacoma and Seattle, the Northern Pacific reaches all the principal points in Northern Minnesota and Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Bear in mind that the Northern Pacific and Shasta line is the scenic route to all points in California.

Send for illustrated pamphlets, maps, and books giving you valuable information in reference to the country traversed by this great line from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Ashland to Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma and Seattle, Washington, Territory, and enclose stamps for the new 1889 Rand McNally County map of Washington Territory, printed in colors.

CHANGES IN LEGISLATORS

OLD FACES TO BE SEEN NO MORE IN CONGRESS.

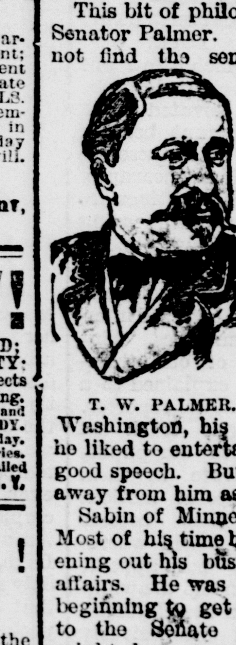

Notable Men Who Have Retired From Their Country's Service Voluntarily and Otherwise.

With the close of each Congress there retires to private life quite a large number of the members and with the adjournment of the last Senate and House quite the usual number departed from Washington to be seen no more in Congressional halls.

Looking over the list at random the first one recalled is Eli Saulsbury, who goes back to private life in Delaware, having been unhappy the last four years because, as a good party man, he has had to uphold the administration and thus overcome the habit acquired during Republican supremacy of opposing everything. Saulsbury is 71 years old, but he keeps his hates as robustly as a man of 40.

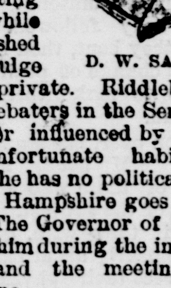

A Senator who will be missed is Bowen of Colorado. He never went home that he did not come back with a batch of new stories which assured him an audience in the cloak-rooms. As a legislator Bowen panned out better than most of the Bonanza Senators. It may have been, however, because he didn't remain a Bonanza long. "I told Bowen," said a fellow Senator after his defeat, "that it was a good thing for him. He has no business here in the Senate while he is poor. Now he is out he will go home and look after mines and get rich again. They he can come back to the Senate enjoying life as a Senator should."

This bit of philosophy is not indorsed by Senator Palmer. He is rich, but he did not find the senate attractive. When another man wanted the place and Palmer's followers in Michigan were getting ready for a fight he surprised them all by coolly remarking that anybody who wanted his place in the Senate could have it. He had not found it worth fighting for. Palmer's colleagues regret his departure. He has the best cook in Washington, his terrapin is unsurpassed, he liked to entertain, and he can make a good speech. But Palmer puts all these away from him as vanities.

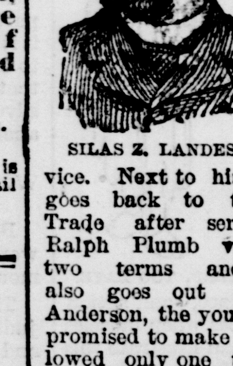

T. W. PALMER.

Sabin of Minnesota goes out regretfully. Most of his time has been spent in straightening out his business affairs. He was just beginning to get used to the Senate and might have proved a valuable legislator. Riddleberger of Virginia will not be forgotten, and he will be regretted despite his eccentricity in getting drunk in public, while other distinguished public men indulge that weakness in private. Riddleberger is one of the best debaters in the Senate, and his vote was never influenced by some big railroad. His unfortunate habits have wrecked him and he has no political future. Chandler of New Hampshire goes out for a while at least. The Governor of his State will not appoint him during the interim between March 4 and the meeting of the Legislature in June.

D. W. SABIN.

In the House the changes will be considerably more than one-third, as about 130 members dropped out of the last Congress. Some of them have served terms of from two to ten years without making any reputation, others have contrived to gain notoriety, and a few have built solid reputations. Illinois has dropped more of her old members than has been her custom, but she still keeps most of her long-time Representatives. Thomas has the longest service. Next to him comes Dunham, who goes back to the Chicago Board of Trade after serving six years. Col. Ralph Plumb voluntarily retires after two terms and Silas Z. Landes also goes out of his own motion. Anderson, the young Quincy member, who promised to make a useful legislator, is allowed only one term. Jehu Baker also might have proved to more advantage to his district than a new man, but with Morrison not the opposition candidate Uncle Jehu found himself a few votes short. Iowa has a bad practice in most districts of enforcing the two-term rule. The result is that Fuller, Holmes, and Lyman are pushed aside just when their experience was proving valuable. Anderson, the Independent, was not given the usual allowance, while Weaver, the Fusionist, found that his game was played out after it had been worked successfully three or four times. In Nebraska "Johnny" McShane will be replaced by a Republican. With the departure of Symes Colorado breaks its record of red-headed Representatives. "Red-Headed" Jim Belford helped to make the State and Symes did not fall behind him. Symes had not only red hair, but also a pair of lungs that would make a blacksmith's bellows feeble in comparison.

SILAS Z. LANDES

Minnesota makes almost an entire change in her delegation, Lind being the only Representative re-elected. Knute Nelson had enough of Congress and retired of his own accord. The three Democratis—Wilson, Macdonald, and Rice—were all creditable members. But the off year performance by which they were elected was not repeated. Wisconsin also makes several changes. Smith, the labor member from Milwaukee, goes back to his trade as a millwright thoroughly at outs with Congressional life. Guenther, the Oshkosh German, who talks more pointed Anglo-Saxon than any man in Congress, retires to take some good federal position under Gen. Harrison. Hudd takes up the practice of law again, while Stephenson resumes his lumber business entirely satisfied that the family is still to be represented in the National Legislature. His Michigan brother is a member-elect.

KNUTE NELSON.

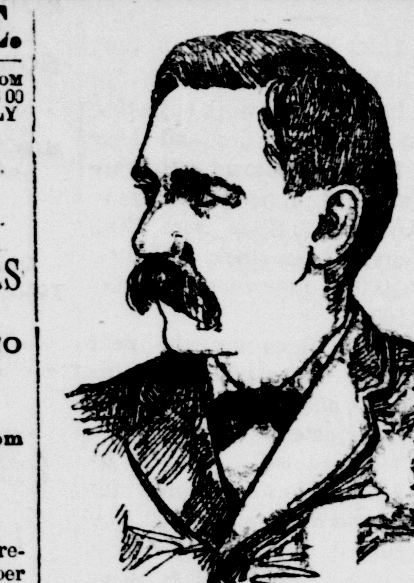

Indiana sends many new faces. Hovey won't be in the LIst Congress because he became Governor of the State. Matson won't be there because he did not become Governor of the State. Johnston and White went down because the Republicans devoted all their energies to carrying the State for Gen. Harrison, to the neglect of Congressional districts. Jonas Howard of New Albany is the only Hoosier Democrat who will keep Matson company in retirement.

Of the outgoing Michigan members Tarsney will be the most missed. He never made a speech in his life that did not have an Irish bull in it. Ford was making rapid strides toward a National reputation, and had become identified with prospective immigration statutes, but the majority in his district went the wrong way. Seymour of the Peninsula had had all he wanted of Washington. Fisher of West Bay City had not, but the people of the district thought he had served them long enough.

H. W. SEYMOUR.

Missouri loses one of its valuable members in William Warner of Kansas City, the new Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. Warner wanted to go back to his practhe Democrats elected a brother of Tim Tarsney. The three St. Louis Democrats—O'Neill, Glover, and Clardy—are all replaced by Republicans. Glover will be remembered as the member who spent fewer days in attendance at the sessions than any half dozen other members.

Of the Buckeye members who go out Beriah Wilkins' memory will be kept the greenest. He grew to like Washington so well that he is going to stay and publish a newspaper. Romeis of the Toledo district is in a situation not unlike that of Jehu Baker. Foran, the protection Democrat of Cleveland, was not a candidate for reelection. James E. Campbell, "the Butler pony," is another Buckeye protection Democrat who stood from under. Campbell expects to be his party's candidate for Governor.

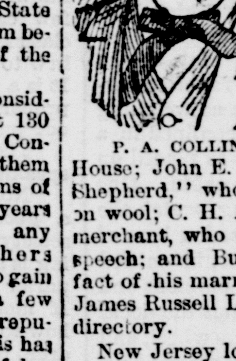

Pennsylvania has a large delegation, yet it makes but few changes. Among its retired statesmen is "Chain-Lightning" Bill Scott. Braumm, the Greenbacker, also retires after several terms. Snowden goes out along with Ermentrout. Heistand, who kept up the reputation of the Lancaster district for sending bachelors to Congress, gives way to a benedict. Thus the succession established by Buchanan and Thad Stevens is broken.

W. L. SCOTT.

New York never sends a strong delegation and the changes in its personnel are not of much interest. Most of its retiring members, however, are men of more than local reputation. Among them are Deacon S. V. White, who found the House a tyrant more exacting than Wall street. Cummings and Merriman, the newspaper members; Tim Campbell, the honored townsman of Senator Evarts and the only man who ever called President Cleveland "his Nibs;" Bourke Cockran, who got too few chances to make speeches; Lloyd S. Bryce, the son-in-law of ex-Mayor Cooper and a warning example to rsch young men in politics; Bacon, who has gained some fame because he looks like the picture of Shakespeare; Ira Davenport and Weber of the Buffalo district.

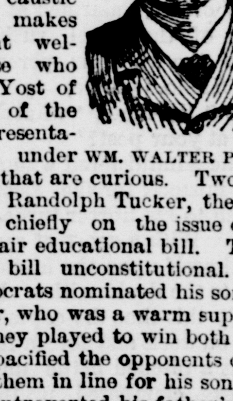

With the exception of Maine, most of the New England States change their members. Parson McKinney of New Hampshire goes out, and also Gallinger, the printer-doctor. Massachusetts changes three-fourths of her delegation. Among the retiring members are Gov. Long, the translator of Virgil; Pat Collins, the Irish defender of the Cleveland administration; Leopold Morse, the clothing merchant, who got Major McKinley to advertise his goods in the House; John E. Russell, the "Golden Shod Shepherd," who could outtalk any member on wool; C. H. Allen, the Lowell lumber merchant, who could also make a good speech; and Burnett, who embalmed the fact of his marriage to the only child of James Russell Lowell in the Congressional directory.

P. A. COLLINS.

New Jersey loses William Walter Phelps, always suave and always able to command the attention of the House.

Of the Southern members Nathan Goff is publicly the best known. Norwood of Georgia had a caustic tongue, which makes his retirement welcome to those who have felt it. Yost of Virginia, one of the youthful Representatives, retires under circumstances that are curious. Two years ago he beat J. Randolph Tucker, the pride of Virginia, chiefly on the issue of the issue of the Blair educational bill. Tucker declared the bill unconstitutional. This year the Democrats nominated his son, St. George Tucker, who was a warm supporter of the bill. They played to win both ways. The old man pacified the opponents of the bill and kept them in line for his son. The young man controverted his father's arguments, and between them they got enough votes to defeat Yost.

WM. WALTER PHELPS

Stopping Johnny's Fighting.

"Johnny, your mother says you've been fighting again."

"Yes, pa. Billy Nibbs called me a gaudy dude, and I punched his head."

"You shouldn't do so. It is very wrong to come to blows, my son. I shall have to make a prize fighter of you if you don't stop it."

IN the country districts of Sweden electric lighting is rapidly increasing. Farmers are putting in independent instruments to be worked by turbines at very small expense.

'When the spring-time comes," we usually find ourselves drowsy and exhausted, owing to impure and sluggish state of the blood. To remedy this trouble, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the most powerful, yet safe and economical blood-purifier in existence.

SCARED THE MARSHALS OFF.

River Land Settlers Arm Themselves and Drive Off Uncle Sam's Officers.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, April 5.—The posse of marshals who went into the country to make evictions from the river lands were met at Homer by an armed mob of settlers and driven unceremoniously from the field. The posse fled to Webster City, where they took a train for Dubuque without accomplishing a single eviction. It is supposed they went to Dubuque, which is the Federal headquarters of this part of Iowa, to receive additional help, and they will return. If they do the present situation promises an armed resistance of the Government, and it is feared that the end can not be reached without bloodshed.

Sheriff Adams and posse are in the country to make arrests for violation of the State conspiracy law, and have not returned yet. The sheriff has deemed it advisable to postpone the arrests until the present outbreak is subdued.

Complete Figures for Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 5.—The complete vote of the State for Governor gives Ladd 16,852; Davis, 21,350; Richardson, 1,511; Chace, 3,435. Davis lacks 548 of an election, but has a plurality of 4,398. For Attorney-General, Rogers has 21,011; Slocum, 21,816; scattering, 27, giving Slocum a majority of 778.

By complete returns the Senate stands: Republicans, 21; Democrats, 31; with four to be elected. The House stands: Republicans, 23; Democrats, 37; twelve yet to be elected.

Two-thirds of all deaths in New York City are from consumption or pneumonia. The same proportion holds for most other cities. Delays are dangerous. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption will always relieve, and may save your life. Prentice & Evenson, Druggists.

—The name of H. L. Skavlem was unintentionally omitted from the list of the members of the Angle Worm club who were in Madison yesterday.

—It is the Stuart Theatre Company who play a one week's engagement at Lappin's Opera House next week, and not Stuart's Opera Company.

—Mr. W. P. Sayle received to-day copies of "The Watch Tower," a weekly paper printed in Cooperstown, N. Y. in 1827. The papers are well preserved, and are valuable relics.

—We take this means of thanking all those who lent their aid so willingly in helping us during the fire and water excitement of Tuesday afternoon.

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Peters desire to express their appreciation for sympathy and assistance rendered by many friends during the illness, and after the death that recently occurred in their home.

—The Good Templar will give one of their popular entertainments this evening. An excellent programme has been prepared, and their rooms should be crowded. The admission is only ten cents.

—Marshal Hogan is making it interesting for those persons who have been in the habit of driving into the city early in the morning and allowing their teams to stand tied to a hitching post until late at night without feed or water.

—Hans Jergson was convicted of being drunk and unable to care for himself, in the municipal court this morning. He was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail, but sentence was suspended during good behavior.

—The loss sustained by J. M. Bostwick & Sons on account of the fire on Tuesday last, was satisfactorily adjusted yesterday by the several insurance companies interested. The insurance carried by the firm amounts to $40,000, and their loss was settled for $2,500.

—The alarm of fire at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from box 13, corner of Terrace and Ravine street, first ward, proved to be a false alarm. The fire department made a quick run to the box, but could not ascertain who turned in the alarm or any cause.

—William Powers, another of the boys who were charged with burglarizing the saloon of Carl Hanson, was captured by Marshal Hogan yesterday afternoon, and appeared before Judge Patterson this morning. His examination was set for April 11th. Powers was committed to jail on default of $300 bail.

—The Razzle Dazzle Euchre Club met last evening with Miss Eda Buchholz, and were most royally entertained. Mr. Lee Wilcox and Mrs. Charles Myers were the lucky contestants for first prize, while George Denniston and Kittie Foster were awarded the prizes for getting beaten the most games.

—The published report of the chief engineer of the Rockford Fire Department shows that the department responded to 61 alarms last year, and the total loss by fire was $41,463, upon which there was an insurance of $80,741. The expenses of the fire department were something over $14,000.

—A large delegation of school teachers went to Afton this morning to attend the examinations being held there to-day and to-morrow, by County Superintendent Thom. The trains were a little late this morning, and the peppery remarks made about the inconvenience of traveling by rail, were numerous.

—The regular meeting of the Assembly of Court Street church will be held in the Sunday school room of the church next Monday evening. In connection with the regular study of the evening, Dr. Gish will exhibit some of his finest views by the aid of his powerful stereopticon. The pictures are well worth seeing.

—Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. John McMahon were held at St. Mary church this morning, Rev. Father Roche officiating. After the services at the church the remains were borne to their last resting place in Mount Olivet cemetery by Geo. Viney, S. B. Phillips, W. J. Canary, Peter Riley, John Fennig and Mr. Sullivan, pall bearers.

—Regarding the Crichton vs. Crichton case, in which A. A. Jackson, Esq, is acting for the plaintiff at Mr. Street's request, the statement should read:—The defendant claims that the bill of Mr. Street is too large. There is no conflict between Mr. Street and the plaintiff, his evidence being given in her behalf. This case has occupied the several courts since July 7th, 1885, about four years.

—J. M. Bostwick & Sons, dry goods dealers, whose store has been closed since the fire Tuesday afternoon last, on account of the fire, was opened up for business again this morning. Customers will hardly discover that there had recently been a deluge of water in the large store room. Everything is in order, and the proprietors ready to give bargains to all customers.

—Hon. Fenner Kimball, supervisor of the third ward, is prominently spoken of in connection with the chairmanship of the next board of supervisors. Mr. Kimball is one of the oldest members of the board in point of service, and his knowledge of the county business and experience in legislative matters would be of great benefit to the county should he be elected to preside over the county board.

—John Lowrey was arraigned before Judge Patterson in the municipal court this morning, charged with cruelty to animals. Lowery hitched his team at the foot of Dodge street sometime yesterday, and at one o'clock this morning was found by Marshal Hogan still standing there. The Marshal took the team in charge and procured comfortable quarters for them for the rest of the night, and Lowey was covicted and fined $10 and costs, amounting in all to $13.31.

—William B. Strong, president of the Achison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, arrived in the city this morning in his special car, coming from Prairie du Chien, accompanied by his wife. They will remain in the city until evening the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Burpee, Pleasant street, Fourth ward. Mr. Strong is looking exceedingly well, time having dealt very kindly with him, probably because Mr. Strong has dealt gently with ime.

—The Fortnightly club met last evening with James Holmes. The programme as published in the Gazette was carried out. The discussion, which was led by Mr. William Smith, Esq., was of unusual interest, and brought out many new and interesting ideas about Tolstoi and his works. At the conclusion of the discussion the club indulged in a few hours of euchre. It was one of the most successful meetings of the club.

—The Beloit Free Press: Oh, by the way, the Janesville republicans did keep one of their candidates out of the soup. His name it is John Brown, (Glory, glory, hallelujah) and he was elected street commissioner.——Dr. St. John, democrat, who was elected mayor of Janesville by a majority of 126 on Tuesday, was born in that city. Probably no man in that city has more personal friends than the doctor and when it comes to voting for or against him, friendship was stronger than politics.

—St. Patrick's church was filled this morning with those who had gathered to pay their last respects to all that was mortal of Katie Garvin. Father McGinnity conducted the services, speaking words of comfort to the bereaved family. The white coffin was fairly covered with flowers. At the conclusion of the services at the church, Arthur McCaffery, John Sullivan, John E. Wilbur, Thomas Whalen, Patrick McKeigue and John Kelly tenderly bore the remains to Mount Olivet cemetery.

--Things were lively around the saloon of Connors & Dawson for a short time last evening. The young fellows who had evidently indulged too freely in the ardent, insisted on the proprietors' keeping the place open for their especial benefit after the usual closing hour, but the proprietors couldn't see it that way. The lights were put out and the case argued with jugs, bottles, pokers, etc. A few window lights were broken, and one of the young men received a slight cut in the head. Quiet was soon restored and the only reminder of the affair left, was the holes in the window.

The greatest cure on earth for pain, Salvation Oil; sing the refrain.

"You out to-day, my friend, in this cold wind? I thought you were sick in bed with a cold." He said nothing but smiled a jolly smile and led me to the apothecary's shop, and pointing to a big advertisement of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup said: "Thereby hangs the tale; that tells the story."

AN OLD LETTER.

WRITTEN ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHT YEARS AGO.

Mrs. Harriet Leonard, residing at 229 South Main street, has in her possession a family keepsake in the shape of a letter written to her garndfather, bearing date April 27th, 1780, being one hundred and eight years old. The letter is addressed to "Mrs. Gurdon Wadsworth, Hartford, Conn." Mrs. Harriet Leonard, of this city, is a daughter of John Russell, of Hartford, who married Martha, daughter of Gurdon Wadsworth, of Hartford. The letter is well preserved, and is written in a very bold and plain hand, the style of spelling and the use of capital letters being so different from that of to-day, the letter is given here verbatim as near as type will give it:—

"DEAR SISTER

I most Sincerely Condole with you the loss of one more Brother, I this moment Receivd A Letter from Boston by Express, which Contained the awful & mellancolly news of the Death of your Brother, and my ounly Brother. Most Shocking & unexpected news to me Indeed. I pray to God that this awfull and Repeated frown of his Providence may be Sanctified to, and Excite all the surviving Relatives & Friends to prepare for our great & last Change, as we Know not how soon or sudden that Period may arrive to any of us—— Poor timothy Departed this life in Boston Last saturday morning.

in great greif I am your Efectionate Brother

JNO. WRIGHT.

April 27th, 1780."

The Brompton Hospital for consumptives, London, England, published a statement that 52 per cent of the patients in that institution had unsuspected kidney disease. Every drop of blood in the system passes thousands of times through the lungs in each 24 hours. The same blood passes through the kidneys for purification. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition or able to expel the poisonous or waste matter the acids return to the delicate tissues of the lungs and produce friction, which results in the symptoms of what is known as consumption. This explains why 52 per cent of the consumptive patients have unsuspected kidney trouble. Warner's Safe Cure puts the kidneys in a healthy condition taking the acids from the blood which vitiate the lungs and cause consumption.

WISCONSIN MAYORS.

HOW SOME OF THE LEADING CITIES STAND POLITICALLY.

Oshkosh elected a republican mayor by 424 majority.

La Crosse elected a republican mayor and all the city officers except one member of the board of public works.

F. L. Mitchell, republican, was elected mayor of Racine.

B. F. Sweet, republican, was elected mayor of Fond du Lac.

Mayor Shaw, republican, was re-elected in Eau Claire.

E. E. Martin, republican, was elected mayor of Stevens Point by 300 majority.

T. C. Lund, republican, was elected mayor of Stoughton.

H. Sackett, republican, was elected mayor of Berlin.

M. R. Doyon, democrat, was re-elected mayor of Madison, without opposition.

Beloit elected D. J. Foster, republican mayor.

A. Keifer, democrat, was elected mayor of Portage.

Ashland elected a democrat for mayor.

E. Engerbretsen, democrat, was elected mayor of Whitewater.

Marshfield elected Adam Hoefer, independent, mayor.

The water-works party was victorious in Ripon—Mayor Eyerez being re-elected.

Appleton elected A. P. Lenings, democrat, mayor.

W. F. Voss democrat, was elected mayor of Watertown.

Elkhorn, Mauston, Delavan, Richland Center, Viroqua, Baraboo, Evansville, Neenah, etc, etc. elected republican mayors.

It will be seen by the above that all the first and second class cities in the state, except Madison, Appleton and Janesville, elected republican mayors. Milwaukee, Oshkosh, La Crosse, Racine, Eau Claire, and Fond du Lac, the six largest cities in the state, elected or have republican mayors. Of the larger places Madison, Appleton and Janesville stand almost alone in the democratic column.

THE FISHWAYS.

FINAL HEARING BEFORE THE ROCK COUNTY DELEGATION.

The representatives of the Angle Worm club have returned from Madison, feeling confident that the Fishway bill will be favorably reported back to the legislature, by the Rock county delegation. Yesterday was the time set for the final hearing. The opposition to the bill has been, practically, about all withdrawn.

"What kind of a fishway will be put in here, provided the bill becomes a law?" was asked of a friend of the bill.

"Oh, that is hard to tell," he replied; "something which would practically answer the purpose in this particular location, and yet you would come within the allowance made for the fishway."

How much would it cost.

Well, a fishway can be built that would cost anywhere from one hundred to five hundred dollars. It will, in all probability cost much less than the allowance made for it.

What effect will it have, as to the fish in the river at this point?

It would give fish a clear run in the river up as far as Lake Koshkonong, and even up to Jefferson. We often hear the complaint that the fish have all been caught out of the river, and that some kinds which were once plenty here have disappeared. Put the fishways in the dams and the large number of fish in the river will surprise you, and those species of fish that have become so scarce here will come back just as they did before they were shut out by the dams.

Wm. Roberts, M. D. Physician to the Manchester, England, Infirmary and Lunatic Hospital, Professor of Medicine in Owen's College, says: "Gradual failure of strength, increased pallor or sallowness, and disinclination for exercise is one of the prominent symptoms of kidney disease." Warner's Safe Cure is the only remedy that is guaranteed to cure kidney disease.

WASHINGTON CAMP NO. 1.

Washington Camp No. 1, of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, State of Wisconsin, was instituted last night in this city by National President George P. Smith, of Chicago; State President of Illinois, W. A. Saunders, of Chicago; and Dr. E. P. Rice, District President of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The camp in this city starts out under very favorable circumstances. It has a good membership and prospects of rapidly increasing in number when the principles and objects of the order are more fully understood.

LOSSES ADJUSTED.

THE LOSSES FROM LAST TUESDAY'S FIRE NEARLY ALL ADJUSTED.

Adjusters have been at work adjusting the losses on Tuesday's fire and have come to satisfactory agreement with nearly all those who had property destroyed.

J. M. Bostwick & Sons were the heaviest losers. Their stock was insured for $40,000, and their loss was adjusted at $2,500.

J. Sutherland & Sons are the next heaviest losers. Their stock was insured for $10,000, and their loss has been satisfactorally adjusted at $1,100.

The building occupied and owned by J. M. Bostwick & Sons was insured for $4,000, the loss was adjusted at $150. The building occupied by Eldredge as a drugstore, and by Sutherland & Sons' books, was owned by Mrs. F. F. Stevens, was insured for $9,000 and the loss adjusted at $200. The various companies have made prompt and satisfactory adjustments. Messrs. Bostwick & Sons, J. Sutherland & Sons, Wm. M. Eldredge and Robert Horn are all doing business again, apparently as if nothing had happened, and with very little to remind one of their recent wetting down.

STUART COMEDY COMPANY.

THEY WILL OPEN A WEEKS' ENGAGEMENT AT LAPPIN'S, APRIL 8TH.

On Monday of next week the Stuart Comedy Company will open a week's engagement at Lappin's Opera House. This is the best popular price company on the road and are playing to crowded houses everywhere. They opened a week's engagement at Racine on Monday of this week, and the Racine Times of Tuesday, April 2d, says of the opening performance:

The Stuart Comedy Company opened their week's engagement at Turner hall last evening by presenting that great comedy, entitled "A Vagabond Heroine". The hall was well filled and the audience were well satisfied with the company, as they frequently showed their appreciation by a storm of applause. Helen Fremar, as Laura, the vagabond heroine, a victim of avarice and revenge, yet happy as the day is long, took the part in a charming way. She soon ingratiates herself into the hearts of the audience by her artless mannerisms. Edwin Stuart, as Henry Graham, a young man who never fails to do right, is an actor of unquestionable ability, and is always a great favorite with Racine audiences. They were ably supported by Henry Freeman who portrayed the character of the fugitive criminal, John Ainsworth. The rest of the troupe performed their parts in a capable manner. The piece was well put on and the Stuarts give a good entertainment, if they do play at cheap prices. We can safely recommend them to our citizens.

HE TOOK THE SHIP.

An Amusing Story of a Bear Which Had Things Its Own Way.

Recently the bark Golden Star, as she left the China seas for San Francisco, carried as a passenger a black bear weighing about 450 pounds. He was confined in a strong wooden box, which was placed on the deck aft of the captain's cabin. One night as they were changing watch the bear pried off one of the wooden bars of the cage and got out. Mr. Bruin sniffed the strong salt breeze for a moment and then began wandering about the deck. Suddenly he saw the man at the wheel, and without further ceremony he crawled up to him and rising on his haunches struck the jack-tar a savage blow with his huge paw. The sailor, of course, let go the wheel, the ship immediately broached to and fell off her course, the sails flapped wildly in the wind, and the binnacle light was extinguished in the struggle. The first officer, alarmed at the sudden lurching of the vessel, rushed on deck. Close to the wheel he perceived a dark form. "Hello, there, you lubber!" bawled out the mate, "what do you mean sleeping at your post?"

Then he administered a sound kick at what he mistook for the sleeping sailor but which to his horror turned out to be the bear. With a snort of rage the brute hurled himself upon the first officer, felling him to the deck with a blow of his paw. By this time the captain and crew were all on deck and for a few minutes there was a pitched battle until the bear broke away, clambered up the shrouds, and perched himself comfortably in the cross-trees.

The Captain took a census and found half the crew disabled, the original victim being nearly dead. Enraged at the spectacle the Captain peppered away with his revolver and finally succeeded in killing the bear, which fell to the deck with a loud crash. When the Golden Star reached the Cape of Good Hope her sails were torn to shreds, her binnacle was broken, and she was badly damaged, and all on account of the sayage bear that tried to run the ship.

Another Discouraged Man.

He waded through the snow up the front steps and rang the door-bell. And when the servant answered his ring he said:

"I must see the lady herself on very important business."

The lady appeared and he continued: "Madame, can I contract with you to clean off this snow?"

"Why—I—how much do you want?"

"Only 20 cents."

"Well, you may clean it off."

"Thanks have you a snow shovel?"

"There's one in the shed, I believe."

"Thanks. Is there a boy in the neighborhood whose services I could secure?"

"For what?"

"To clean off the snow, ma'am. I am a contractor—not a laborer. And, ma'am, it is my rule to begin bossing only in the morning. If you can wait until to-morrow I'll be around at an early hour. My rule is to collect in advance, ma'am, and if you happen to have a bit of cold turkey and a cup of coffee and an old suit of clothes I shall feel under many obligations."

She shut the door on him, and he went off declaring that it was another evidence that honesty and industry didn't pay in this community.

Effect of Too Much Culture.

A Boston man purchased a bit of court plaster for his nose and a postage stamp for a letter. He then placed the court-plaster on the letter, affixed the stamp to his nose, and tried to crawl into a letter box.

FOR HEALTH AND GRACE.

HOW THEY MAY BE READILY ACQUIRED.

Miss Morgan's Recent Work on Methods of Acquiring a Proper Pose and Resulting Health.

Miss Anna Mogan, who has been for four years a teacher in the Chicago Conservatory of dramatic art, is the author of a book on expression, just published by Lee & Shepard of Boston. "An Hour With Delsarte" is the title of this attractive little volume, whose gilt binding is adorned with a classical maiden figure. It claims to be the first practical work on a subject that is popularly supposed to interest young ladies merely who wish to acquire an easy grace. But students of Delsarte insist that the popular idea is erroneous; that the plan is to cultivate health and correct growth as well as that bodily flexibility so necessary to grace.

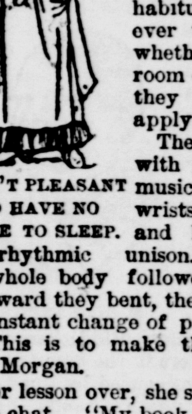

MISS ANNA MORGAN.

Miss Morgan omits all technical terms in her book, adopting an easy style that explains Delsarte's methods without attempting fine analysis. She tells her readers how to stand that their bodies may become well proportioned, for she insists that nature is a ready helper of all wisely directed effort. She points out faults of bearing, of walking, and of sitting, urging her readers to expand the chest by a natural position that is kept with less fatigue as well as with more dignity than the usual slouching pose. All these ideas are emphasized by numerous illustrations of bad and good positions, from which a few are copied. There are hollow-chested girls, undignified girls, girls with elevated shoulders, and girls whose arrogant bearing repels all who meet them. All these are told what is wrong in their appearance. On the other hand, graceful positions are shown with bad contours disappearing from a pose that allows free development.

I WONDER WHAT IS LOVE!

The author is a vivacious brunette who was found before a class of young ladies and gentlemen engaged in esthetic gymnastics. "This is a part of our training," she explained to a Chicago News reporter. "We never teach set gestures to our pupils, but cultivate in them easy, graceful motions that in time become habitual. Then, wherever they may appear, whether in the drawing-room or on the platform, they will unconsciously apply to them."

'TISN'T PLEASANT TO HAVE NO PLACE TO SLEEP.

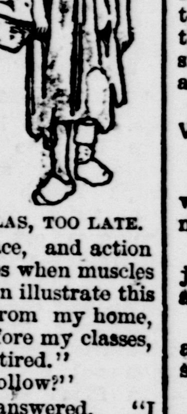

The class was watched with interest while, to music from a piano, wrists, arms, shoulders, and heads were moved in rhythmic unison. Exercises for the whole body followed. Forward and backward they bent, then from side to side, in constant change of position.

"This is to make them flexible," said Miss Morgan.

Her lesson over, she seated herself for a little chat. "My book," she said, "is for the benefit of those who wish only a slight knowledge of the subject. Comparatively few can, if they wish, go through these classes, but nearly all are anxious to know how to correct their physical deficiencies. It is a mistake to suppose that we merely prepare people for the stage. Many of our pupils are society people."

"The gentlemen are preparing for public speaking, I suppose?"

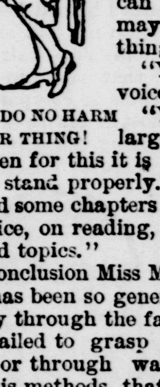

"Not always; many desire only to make a good appearance in society. A good bearing is as admirable in a parlor as on the stage. If mothers understood how to teach their children, few of them would grow up with awkward defects. It's not enough to say to a child, 'Don't be so stiff,' or 'Don't stand so awkwardly'; the child must be shown how to hold itself, how to stand, or to walk. It is wonderful how health improves when the body is properly held. The chest expands, the arms fall naturally into easy place, and action no longer fatigues as it does when muscles are stiff and strained. I can illustrate this myself, for I walk to and from my home, standing, too, for hours before my classes, without ever feeling really tired."

ALAS, TOO LATE.

"Whose method do you follow?"

"Only my own," she answered. "I have studied for years, reaching conclusions that I adopt in my work. Of all things I object to mannerisms. The initial step is to correct all faults of bearing, such as stiff shoulders, round shoulders, or undue prominence of any part. It is impossible to use the arms gracefully until such faults are corrected. When a pupil can stand properly he may learn to do something with his limbs."

IT CAN DO NO HARM POOR THING!

"You can train the voice also, I suppose?"

"Yes, indeed; that is a large part of our work. But even for this it is necessary that one should stand properly. In my book I have devoted some chapters to practical talks on the voice, on reading, speaking, and on kindred topics."

In conclusion Miss Morgan said: "Delsarte has been so generally misunderstood, largely through the faults of teachers, who have failed to grasp the breadth of his ideas, or through want of acquaintance with his methods, that many who might be helped ridicule the best plan for improvement. In my book I have tried to put this so clearly that any one may understand, and I am hopeful of the result."

Another National Park.

Congress is to be requested to set apart a tract of 23,000 acres of government land in Santa Barbara county, California, for a national park. It is on and about the upper Santa Yuez river, and is wild, mountainous, picturesque, and almost uninhabited, but abounds in large game, including deer, wildcats, mountain lions, and bears.

SENATOR EVARTS' LOG CABIN

Senator Evarts has erected an old fashioned Log Cabin on an elevated point of land which he lately purchased on the Potomac, just below Washington.

It is much more elegant in its finish and appointments than were the homes of our ancestors in the Log Cabin days of long ago, but probably not more conducive to comfort.

Outside it presents the appearance of the typical old fashioned house of the pioneers, being built of logs hewn in the adjacent forest and raised and chinked in the olden style. The interior will be finished in native woods, from the place, but, unlike the primative original, it will be finished in oil.

This is luxury to which the dwellers in the rude Cabins of early days dared not aspire, it being pure luxury, and not adding to the comfort of the domicile.

Senator Evarts began the Log Cabin last summer with the determination that, if Gen. Harrison were elected, he would reverse the popular campaign axiom of half a century ago, "From the Log Cabin to the White House" to a social axiom of the new administration, "From the White House to the Log Cabin."

Harrison was successful; Senator Evarts' new, old fashioned Log Cabin will doubtless also prove a great success. Many a happy day's surcease from the toils and cares of his great station, our Log Cabin president will no doubt enjoy beneath its hospitable roof as the guest of the genial senior senator from New York.

Great as the success may be that attends the introduction of this old-time log cabin to fashionable life, it cannot be greater than the success which has attended the introduction of Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, one of the old-time, effective remedies, the use of which, in primitive times, gave our grand-perents health and rugged old age.

Senator Evarts' log cabin is but another evidence of the tendency in fashionable life, at present so marked, toward things primitive and antiquated. The new fashion is for things old-fashioned, and a return to the old-fashioned roost and herbs remedies of log cabin days is noted with pleasure, as their common use does not permanently injure the system, as the use of the mineral drugs of modern medical practice does.

A BRIDEGROOM [illegible].

He Lost His Wits on the [illegible] Day and Wandered Away.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 5.—A curious case of mental aberration has come to light here. About a month ago James Viccars, a book keeper in a local commission house, disappeared on the day he was to wed Hattie Ray. There were no circumstances in the disappearance to give any clue to its motive. He was a steady, industrious, temperate young man. Yesterday, however, the mystery was explained when his employer received a letter from him, written at the home of his parents in Grass Lake, Mich. In this he stated that he had only a confused memory of the past month, that in a state of mental aberration, or perhaps in a hypnotic state, he had wandered he knew not where. When he came to himself he at once made his way to his old home, weary and worn out. He seems unwilling to return to his old position for fear of ridicule, and it is supposed the wedding, so strangely interrupted, will never come off.

It is very impolite to ask a lady her age; but if you can get hold of the family Bible custom sanctions the practice of looking the matter up there.

Don't ask your hostess how she cooks her celery. A lady who has the art of preparing an especial delicacy does not always like to give the secret away.

Ladies should not whisper in company. Gentlemen may, if they can, as the pleasure afforded the company of overhearing atones for the rudeness of the act.

Do not eat more than one toothpick at table. People abhor a greedy, and, besides, too free indulgence in such food has been known to produce indigestion.

In treading on a lady's foot the old forms of excuse as "I beg your pardon," "Pray excuse me," etc., are superceeded in the best circles by "Forgive me. How could you expect me to see anything so small?"

In taking leave of your hostess after a party where refreshments have been served it is considered a delicate mark of courtesy to turn your pockets inside out to show her that you are not carrying away any of the silver. Besides, you are more likely to get another invitation.

WHAT GOTHAM SWELLS WEAR.

Black buttons in semi-globe shape are worn on white pique vests by men in half-mourning.

There is for the moment more or less prejudice against striped underwear. Whites and grays are favorites.

New color effects in cricketing worsteds are soft shades of gold and brown, gay stripings, and pronounced broad checks.

In many quarters Roman stripes in sashes, mufflers, etc., have been well received and found useful for household decoration purposes.

All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, the black silk skull-cap continues to be the popular head-protector for railway traveling.

Black and steel-gray are effectively combined in silk mufflers. The result produced is a happy medium between the "loud" and the sober.

The attempt to revive scarf-rings is a failure. Puff-scarfs of extreme size in white-ribbed silk is a decided "go" for afternoon wedding wear.

Ties of plain white pique which go twice around the collar and are folded into a bow by the wearer are accepted by high dressers as correct for full dress.

Woolen gloves in dark, solid colors and fancy mixtures have almost entirely superseded white Ringwoods. They are cheaper, keep cleaner, and are just as warm.

New pajamas, ordered out by New York importers, are in zephyr (a cobweb sort of woolen goods), spun silk, and a new flannel, which is almost as delicate as silk.

One and two strands of silk stitching are seen on the lavender gloves shown by high-class furnishers, whose customers favor less width than is seen in the embroidery commonly used.

A shirt seen at a recent fancy dress ball had a dead black bosom, and the collar and cuffs and tie were also black. It was worn in conjunction with trousers, vest, and coat in plain white silk.

Beecham's Pills act like magic on a weak stomach.

Do Not Suffer Any Longer.

Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Dr. Acker's English Remedy for consumption, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct. Prentice & Evenson, druggists.

Good Counsel.

How true it is, as the Practical Mechanic says, thousands start well, but never finish one thing at a time. They have a dozen things on hand and no one completed. Time is wasted on unfinished work. Always finish what you begin. One thing finished is worth a hundred half done. The completion of an undertaking yields more pleasure and profit than dozens of plans. The man who is always planning or scheming is rarely, if ever, successful. He often furnishes ideas for others, who go persistently to work and finish what his ideas suggested. "That was my idea—my plan," we frequently hear some one way, but the man who carried it out was the one who benefited himself and others. Do not begin what you can not finish. What you undertake to do, do, and read the reward of your own ideas and skill. This is good advice both in and out of the shop.

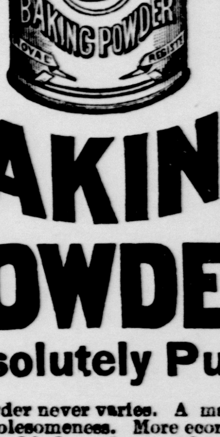

Didn't Want a Sister.

A young lady of Americus, Ga., had a caller not long since, and he lost no time in revealing to her the object of his visit. He said: "Miss ——, I called this evening to ask you a question, and have brought a handsome ring with me. Now, I want you to be candid with me, and before I give it to you I want to know that if you are only inclined to be a sister to me, I will have to take the ring back, as father objects to my sister wearing such an attractive and expensive ring." Whereupon his girl decided to take the ring and let her lover keep her heart. Listen for the wedding bells.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for coughs and colds does is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.
